Happy New Year to you! We hope you had a wonderful end to 2017. In the new year we are all trying to better ourselves. We also want to live in a better world. One way we can insure that happens is by looking into our community and doing what we can to help in any way we can. It doesn't have to be big or cost money, just do something, anything like: When you are going to clean out your closet or garage, look for companies who will come and take what you don't want to put it to another use, instead of throwing it in the trash. Some examples of places that take clothing and household items are: Big Brother Big Sisters, Clothes for Charity, Goodwill, and Salvation Army, just to name a few.

How to find the BEST Attorney

You may be wondering how do I find the best attorney?

Attorneys are not allowed to advertise themselves as being the best attorney.

The most important thing to do is find an attorney who works well with you. Someone that you feel comfortable with because you're going to be working with them over the next several months, if not several years of your life.

We understand that this is going to be one of the toughest times in your life and we will work with you to try to bring you justice and peace and closure.
